

The Mill Pond Bridge

Pond Mill Bridge, also known as Pondtown Mill Bridge, is a historic stone arch bridge in Latimore Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania. It is a 91-foot-long (28 m), triple-arched rubble stone bridge. The bridge crosses Bermudian Creek.

It was added to the National Register of Historic Places in 1988

